Find out information about various types of the same animal e.g. monkeys, to find out information to compare on a graph. It could be height, weight, diet, habitat etc. Please no pictograms!	Create an illustration for a dinosaur from your imagination, labelling its features and showing its habitat. (For example: Long legs for running; sharp teeth for eating its prey; shown living in a tropical habitat or perhaps an ocean habitat).	Research the 'Jurassic Coast' in the UK and create a persuasive poster telling people why they should visit and what they could find there.
Become an Entrepreneur! If you had £30, what would you do with it to increase the amount of money you have? Think about buying/selling, creating goods to sell (e.g. art) or making an investment in something. Tell us in a presentation what you would do!	Choose a story from the Bible that you know and create a comic book version to appeal to younger audiences. What lesson should they learn from the story?	Write a science fiction story about a dinosaur that travels from pre-historic times via a 'space-time worm hole' and arrives in modern day Malmesbury. What could happen?
